No two companies are the same and bespoke furniture is a powerful way to express the unique personality of a business.

Here's a selection of bespoke meeting and dining tables that we have produced for our clients.

Barclays Bank: Meeting table in figured slip-matched maple with polished stainless steel base (Arc base). Incorporating wire management, which runs up through the central column to the power box.

Cinven, UK: In straight grain European oak with white inlay. Cables enter through the boat-shaped bases.

Our service can include marking out the hole position on the floor tile, ensuring that the floor grommet is completely concealed.

CitiBank, Canary Wharf: Meeting table in figured weathered sycamore with brushed stainless steel base (Zographos TA2).

Clarksons Shipping: Dining table in straight grain walnut with sunburst veneer layup. The base (FB base) is in brushed stainless steel.

Clifford Chance: Dining table in figured maple with polished stainless steel base (Zographos TA2). Also showing credenza with nero assoluto granite top, figured maple and stainless steel base.

Deutsche Bank: Meeting table in Duka veneer with polished stainless steel base (Zographos TA2).

Dewey Ballantine: Meeting table in figured maple with polished stainless steel inlay. Bases in brushed stainless steel with access panel for cable management.

Goldman Sachs: AV table in weathered sycamore with silver acrylic inlay detail. The base and trough house AV, power and data cabling and sockets, which are accessed via hinged lids. Microphones are housed in the table top.

Kaupthing Bank: Shown in figured straight grain American walnut with white line inlay detail.

Merrill Lynch: Dining table in straight grain walnut with weathered sycamore.

Olswang: Meeting table in figured straight grain walnut with brushed stainless steel base plate.

One Tower Place: Meeting table in figured maple with sliding centre section for access to power and data sockets.

Paternoster Square: Meeting table in crown cut tinio veneer, with our Arc base in satin polished stainless steel. Cables run up through the central column. Sockets are accessed via our DCI grommet.

Private Bank: Meeting table in radially laid straight grain walnut with wenge inlay.
